The Paducah Herald, edited by J C Noble, a reconstructed rebel, congratulates Kentuckians that the Federal authority is no longer to be enforced by a file of greasy Dutch vagabond soldiers.

A French professor has discovered that the earth does not move so fast as it did two thousand years ago. The learned man computes that in one thousand six hundred millions of years hence it will come to a stand still.

The Round Table says that there has been in our generation four leaders in European politics who have been worthy of the name of great statesmen—Napoleon, Bismarck, Cavour and Palmerston. In America we have one—Andrew Moses Hercules Cromwell Johnson the great Plebian Boy.

In the Senate, May 21st, Mr Williams offered a resolution which was adopted, directing the Committee on the Judiciary to inquire into and report upon the expediency of providing by law for a uniform and effective mode of election of United States Senators by the Legislatures of the respective States.

A corps of workmen are preparing a portion of the Seven Pines battle field, with a view of its conversion into a National Cemetery for the reception of the Federal dead who fell on the fields of Seven Pines, Savage Station, Fraser's Farm and Malvern Hill. The Cemetery contains two or more acres. About 1,100 bodies have been disinterred, placed in neat coffins and given decent Christian burial.

A dispatch from Nashville says that Northern capital is pouring into East Tennessee, especially at Knoxville and Chattanooga. New houses and factories are springing up in every direction. Many farms are being purchased by former Army Officers, and the tide of former immigration seems to have set in toward that section. Several extensive steam saw mills, iron foundries and a large cloth manufactory are projected at Chattanooga.

A prominent person, who has just returned to Washington from the South, says arrangements are now being made by prominent Democrats to secure the representation of the eleven Southern States in the next Democratic Convention; very many of the leading politicians North and South, having held a consultation and laid out the work. Fernando Wood is the chief spirit in the movement, and expects the nomination for the Vice President. General Sherman is named for President.

Views of General Grant—An Hour with the Lieutenant General

NEW YORK, May 27th.—The Lewiston (Me.) Journal gives the report of an hour's conversation between the editor and General Grant, in which, if the report is correctly given, the General appears to have spoken out more freely than he commonly does. He is reported to have said there were some parts of the country where our armies had never trod, particularly Texas, which needed to feel the blighting effects of war to bring their people to a realizing sense of the enormity of the crime, and the necessity of a thorough repenting. He found that those parts of the South which have not felt the war, and particularly those which have been within our lines, and have therefore escaped the rebel conscription, are much less disposed now to bring themselves to the proper frame of mind than they were one year since. A year ago, said he, they were willing to do anything; now they regard themselves as masters of the situation. Some of the rebel Generals, he added, are behaving nobly, and doing all they can to induce the people to throw aside their old prejudices, and conform their course to the changed condition of things. Johnson and Dick Taylor particularly are exercising a good influence, but, he added, Lee is behaving badly. He is conducting himself very differently from what he had reason, from what he said at the time of surrender, to suppose he would. No man at the South is capable of exercising a tenth part of the influence for good that he is, but instead of such, he is setting an example of forced acquiescence so grudging and pernicious in its effects as to be hardly realized.

The men who were in the rebel armies, said Grant, acquiesce in the result much better than those who stayed at home. The women are particularly bitter against the Union and Union men, of course. He added, there is some bitterness of feeling among all classes, but I am satisfied it would soon die out if the leading men had not somehow got the idea that treason, after all, was not very bad, and that the Southern cause, as they phrase it, will yet triumph—not in war, but in politics.

In my judgment, said Grant, the tone of certain men and certain papers in the North is such as to do incalculable mischief in making the late rebels believe that they are just as much entitled to vote as ever, that if they will only stand by what they are pleased to call their rights they will have help from the North.

This, significantly added Grant, is only playing over again the incipient stages of the rebellion. He was confident that the large majority of the Southern people would smother their resentments and become good citizens, if these mischief makers at the North, the Copperheads, would only let them alone. For himself, if he had the power, the first thing he would do would be to seize the New York News and kindred sheets, which are moving the South so dangerously with an idea of their own position and right.

Troops, said General Grant, must be kept in all the principal points in the South for some time to come. This will be necessary to repress the turbulence of a class of the South very dangerous to all well disposed persons, and, also, to protect the rights of the freedmen, who are looked upon with deep hatred by a very large proportion of the people.

THE NEW SENATOR FROM NEW HAMPSHIRE.—The telegraph informs us that J W Patterson, who, at present represents one of the New Hampshire districts in the House, has been elected United States Senator to succeed Daniel Clark. Patterson is classed among the ablest men in a very able House of Representatives. In order that our readers may decide whether he is a Radical or a Reactionist we quote the following from a speech delivered by him in the House on the 19th of May.

> Practical statesmanship to-day does not consist in determining what we would do if we could, but what we can do if we will, and then in doing it. Let me not be understood as palliating the guilt or counseling feeble dispensation of justice to the master spirits who raised and directed this storm of blood. To-day they are building the tombs of dead traitors and inciting the rebel to the red handed work of negro extermination. They are attempting by processions, songs and eulogies, to corrupt the current of history and redeem from eternal infamy the memory of their comrades in perjury, murder and treason. These things must cease. We must have but one history and our monuments must teach the wisdom and glory of loyalty. It cannot be otherwise than that the latest and most resplendent chapter in our national records, the statutes of the last half decade, and the next, the very tribute which industry casts into the public treasury, nay the prevailing sentiments and familiar speech of the loyal country should be a bitter and perpetual reproach to those men. Would you then, place them here to battle legislation, where every debate would be to them as terrible as the fiery tracery on the palace walls to the doomed monarch of Babylon? Place them here and you make this place a bedlam to us and an inferno to them. Bitter discussions would constantly arise, which would finally dismember the republic. Once within these walls their purpose would find fit expression in the language of Belzebub to the infernal council:
> "Though inexorable and revenge, though slow,
> Yet ever plotting how the conqueror least
> May reap his conquest, and may least rejoice
> In doing what we must in suffering feel."
> It is an indispensable condition of peace to both North and South that the guilty authors of the war whose pride and passions would rankle with the shame of defeat should be forced into obscurity where they will be stripped of the prestige of distinction and the power of place.

"Where there is no law there is no liberty," says the Herald.

To which may be added—Where there is no punishment for infracted law, there is no law.

The Impending European War

A letter from Vienna has the following: It is Gen Benedek who will take the command of the army of the North, which circumstance proves that the greatest efforts will be made against Prussia, and that the [illegible] will not be long maintained, as would be the case in a war with Italy. Five Corps of Infantry and two of cavalry are being concentrated at Bohemia; the latter will be commanded by Prince Tour and Taxis and Baron Edelsheim, brother of the Baden Minister. One of the infantry corps will be commanded by the Archduke Leopold; another by Gen Gablenz, who will return here as soon as hostilities shall have commenced. Counts Clam Gallas and Thun and another General whose name I do not know, will have the command of the other three corps.

A Berlin letter contains the following: The military attaches of the Prussian Embassy at St. Petersburg, Lieut Col Schweinitz has arrived here unexpectedly with an autograph letter from the Emperor Alexander to King William. In this communication the Czar makes the last attempt to dissuade the King from commencing a war, the consequences of which it is impossible to calculate. What impression this missive may have produced on the King is not reported.

Count Bismarck had been serenaded upon his escape from assassination. In a speech to the crowd he said: We are all ready to die for King and fatherland, let it be on the pavement of the street or on the battle field. Our common feelings find its best expression in the cry—Long live the King!

The Berlin correspondence of the Times says that within three weeks the Prussian army will have been raised to a total of 415,000, of which number 240,000 are ready to take the field.

It is stated that all the passes in the Tyrol were defended by artillery.

Steamers were being ordered in London for Italy and large contracts for horses are said to have been made with Prussia.

The Prussian Ambassador on the 9th had an audience with Napoleon at 10 o'clock in the morning, an unusually early hour. It was construed as indicating great urgency.

It is stated that the Belgian government shortly intends raising the effective force of the Belgian army to 30,000 men, and that orders had been signed for recalling the men on furlough.

The Paris Patrie states that Switzerland, in view of the probability of war, has obtained a declaration from the great Powers reaffirming her neutrality.

The Paris correspondent of the London Times under date of May 8th, says:

> That an understanding exists between the French Government, M. Bismarck, and Italy no one now seems to have the slightest doubt; and the assertion that Italy has begun to arm only because she dreaded an attack from Austria, is received with a derisive smile. Two or three months ago the project of the Italian Government for the reduction of the expenditure, and the relief of its financial burdens was sent up to Paris for approval. As it was soon that considerable reductions in the army formed an important item in the project, word was at once sent back to Florence that, whatever else was cut down the army must suffer no diminution. This may be denied in Italy, but I have it from too good an authority to doubt it. There is no need to be surprised at the Minister of State's refusal to accept the discussions on the foreign policy of France the other day.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.—The Bulletin, speaking of the Constitutional Amendment that has just passed Congress, says:

> The news from Washington may be taken as conclusive of the harmonization of the Union party, else every vote would not have been given for the Amendment. Thad Stevens and the immediate friends of President Johnson have been content to take up with a compromise.
> What will be the effect of the action of the Senate and House of Representatives throughout the country? There does not appear to be much chance for a difference of opinion. The Union party will advocate the passage of the Constitutional Amendment; Copperheads will oppose it; but will any considerable number of Conservative Democrats follow the lead of those men who still talk as if they imagine slavery yet exists in the United States? Upon the issue which has been made by the passage of the Constitutional amendment, there is no possible chance for the Union party to lose in a contest before the people, for there can be but one opinion except with those who are utterly demoralized in respect to secession. The people do not want the foreign, nor indeed any other holders of Confederate bonds paid; and they have been long dissatisfied with a class of nullification laws which virtually disfranchised persons born north of Mason's and Dixon's line. It is time the country was pacified, and we know of nothing more likely to accomplish such a result than the approval of the Constitutional Amendment proposed by Congress by the requisite number of States.

The San Francisco Examiner characterizes the result of the war against the attempt to practically exercise the right of "State sovereignty" as the consummation of "a great crime against liberty," and asks with injured pathos if the people are going to acquiesce in it. Then, assuming the indignant heroic, the Examiner answers:

> Not unless the war has also made us a nation of sneaks and cowards. And even admitting that, for the present moment, we are thus cowardized and belittled by the war, has the devil so got possession of all that we mean to lie down forever in swinish rest and sleep? No in God's name, no! Rather let us cherish at least so much of the pluck and decency of manhood as shall make us trust that time will come when we shall arise in our wrath and seize this gigantic, monarchical despotic centralizing heresy by the throat, and assert again the liberty which can never be lost except by our own weakness and crime!

Very plucky for a "cowardized" copperhead, but extremely harmless bombast.

GEN LEE NOMINATED.—The Mobile Register has nominated Gen. Robert E. Lee for the next Presidency, keeping the name at the head of its columns. The Memphis Argus rebukes the movement as premature, and says:

> Surely, they are no good or true friends of this grand old man, who, in their present posture of affairs, would drag his great name into the filthy arena of party strife. Not till a new and better spirit shall prevail in the politics of this country, and the country shall call for its best men to serve and stand in high places, will it be possible or appropriate to dignify the Presidential chair with a second and greater than Washington.

That is to say, the the country is not yet worthy to be ruled by such a man as Lee. It will only be thus worthy after passing through the baptism of successful secession and treason. The Argus nominates Andrew Johnson.

A Richmond correspondent of the Boston Post writes:

> A visitor will at once notice the free and unrestrained manner in which the white children are allowed to associate and play with the blacks. A Southern mother allows her children to play at will and pleasure with the little African who may have belonged to the family and are now quartered on the premises. What Northern lady would countenance such associations for her children?

The Southern people are convinced of the superiority of the whites over the black race. It is only the Northern Copperhead who has any doubts about his relative standing with a "nigger."

TAX ON BANKS.—By the revised Internal Tax law now under debate in Congress, the banking section is amended by adding, that deposits in associations of companies known as provident institutions, or savings having no capital stock, and having no other business than receiving deposits to be loaned or invested for the sole benefit of the parties making such deposits, without profit or compensation to the association or company, shall be exempt from tax or duty on so much of their deposits as they shall have invested in securities of the United States, and all deposits less than $500 made in the name of one person.

To secure "constitutional liberty" the Copperheads want Johnson to disperse Congress, one of the constitutional branches of the Government. Failing to get a Jeff Davis, they want a Cromwell.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

TUESDAY MORNING JUNE 26, 1866

'History Vindicated' by a New Authority

Some weeks ago we took occasion to refer to and confute Beriah Brown's version of the history of some of the transactions of the Constitutional Convention of 1787. We gave copious extracts from "Elliott's Debates" to show what the opinion of a majority of the Convention was as to the justice and morality of slavery. Beriah now comes back and asserts that these were nothing but "pretended extracts"—that we "falsified the record" in making them. And how does he get his historical information? The standard histories of those times, he tells us, are too deeply colored by fanaticism to reflect the truth. Madison's account isn't to be relied on. Curtis' "History of the Constitution" is not to be tolerated. Hildreth and Bancroft have no reputation as writers of authentic history. "Facts," says Gradgrind, and after him Beriah, "facts is what we want." So, discarding all the "pretended" histories of those times, Beriah resolves to rely solely for historical information on that veracious Democratic journal, the San Francisco Examiner, and, armed with a terrible array of succedaneous "facts," the offspring of a somewhat vigorous and quite prolific invention, he returns to the charge and triumphantly flourishes the "proofs" that the framers of the Constitution thought that slavery was a moral, blessed and divine institution, and that all New England, believing that it was just what was needed to evangelize the world, voted unanimously for the "perpetuation" of the African slave trade. Now we do not for an instant suppose that Beriah, after having read the unimpeachable Examiner, would deign to consult "Madison's Papers" for information; but if he desires to know from what unreliable sources a part of the history of the last century is drawn, he can be gratified by turning to the fifth volume of "Elliott's Debates," (comprising the "Madison Papers" aforesaid) pages 457 477, where he will find all the extracts we presented in our article some weeks ago, with plenty more of the same sort. We, in common with many others, have been taught to believe that Madison actually knew something about that Constitutional Convention and its proceedings, and that his "Papers," purporting as they do to give a fair report of those matters, are worthy of being consulted by any who may be in want of the information which Beriah turns to the Examiner to obtain; therefore Beriah should not attribute the opinions of those who rely on Mr Madison's statements to "ignorance or dishonesty," but should charge the errors he complains of upon their responsible author.

It is true that Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Connecticut voted in the Convention—not for the "perpetuation" of the slave trade, as Beriah says—but that the slave trade might continue twenty years, or until the year 1808. But why did they do so? Because the Union could not be had without it. This was one of the great concessions which New England made for the sake of the Union. Prior to the assemblage of the Constitutional Convention, the slave trade had been prohibited by all the States except North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia. (See Curtis' Constitutional History, Vol. II, page 285.) At first all the States except the three above mentioned insisted on immediate prohibition. These three States insisted with equal or greater pertinacity that the traffic should be perpetual. "On the 21st and 22d of August," says Curtis, Vol. II, page 301, "an excited debate took place on the taxation of the slave trade, in which the three States of Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina made the limitation upon the power of the Union over this traffic the condition of their accepting the Constitution. This debate was closed by the proposition of Governeur Morris to refer the whole subject to a committee of one from each State." This committee proposed that "the migration or importation of such persons as the several States might think proper to admit, should not be prohibited by the national legislature before the year 1800, but that a tax or duty might be imposed on such persons, at a rate not exceeding the average duties on imports." The period of restriction was afterwards extended to the year 1808, against the earnest protest of Mr. Madison, who put himself on the record as saying, (Madison, Elliot Vol. V, 477) that "so long a term would be more dishonorable to the American character than to say nothing about it in the Constitution." Tell us, Beriah, did Mr. Madison have any "moral" objections to slavery?

As we before stated, all the States except North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia had already forbidden the slave trade. As these three States stood alone in demanding the perpetuation of the traffic, Governeur Morris was for making the clause read at once; "The importation of slaves into North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia shall not be prohibited, etc." (Elliot Vol. V, 470.) This motion was not adopted "lest it should give offence to the people of those States." Thereupon, the clause prohibiting the slave trade after 1808, was adopted in the shape in which it now stands in the Constitution—the New England States, although they had already prohibited it through their Legislatures, now voting aye, for the sake of getting the Union they desired. "History," says Curtis, has to thank the patriotism and liberality of the Northern States, for having acquired for the Government of the Union the power to terminate the African slave-trade."

In a former article we said that the votes of New England were given for the continuation of the slave-trade for twenty years, as a concession to South Carolina and Georgia. Beriah, drawing his "facts" from that repository of historical truth, the San Francisco Examiner, says that this statement is a "misrepresentation." Of course Beriah is correct in his asseverations; but we must confess that we prefer to be obstinately wrong with the authorities we have quoted, rather than to be easily and entirely right with the historian of the Examiner and his disciple Beriah Brown.

A WILL O' THE WISP.—Somebody, during the late war committed treason. Copperheads say it was not the States for "States cannot commit treason." Well then, was it the people—the individuals composing the State? "No, they only followed their States to which they owed a permanent allegiance." Well, was it the States and the individuals, together? "No," answers Major St Paul at a dinner given by the Mobile Cadets in honor of the rebel dead, "the crime, if crime it be to seek redress and flee from insult and oppression, was the crime of the South." Did the "South" commit treason? "No, the South was a 'belligerent' and a belligerent is a public enemy," says Beriah. Treason, then, seems to be a Will o' the Wisp, and nobody's done anything naughty—"except Congress and the Rads and 'niggers' and the 'hired minions,'" says Copperhead.

The Union as it was and the Constitution as it is is now the people's cry.—S. F. Examiner

The Union as it was, tolerated slavery. The Constitution as it is, forbids slavery. Will the Examiner or the Herald, its next friend and imitator, be kind enough to show how we are to have "the Union as it was and the Constitution as it is?"

Woods' majority is 327, Mallory's, 564 May's, 595, Cooke's, 186 and McPherson's, 760. The average Union majority in the State is 550.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—The Eastern line still down beyond Laramie.

The steamer Oregon 10 days from Portland [illegible] River arrived here to-day. On her downward trip 22 days off Catalina Island, struck the British bark Kent [illegible] Carmen Island with salt for Portland, Oregon, and at 1:55 A. M. the vessel sunk.

South American and Panama News.

The Pacific mail steamer Golden City which left Panama on the evening of June 9th where she connected with the steamer leaving New York on June 1st, arrived here early this morning with late advices from South America. The news is unimportant. No new military movements had taken place. Business was improving in Valparaiso and no further molestation was feared from the Spanish. A grand banquet was given in honor of the victory of the [illegible] over the Spanish invaders. No less than 1,500 gentlemen sat down to dinner. The principal foreign ministers and the United States were represented.

A calamity causing the death of 11 men occurred in Valparaiso on May 20th in the sinking of a submarine battery which was designed to destroy [illegible]. She was towed into some 30 fathoms of water for the purpose of experimenting and that was the last seen of her.

The election of President of the State of Panama took place June 3d, resulting in the election of General Vicente [illegible], that popular dignitary receiving every vote that was cast.

The last steamer from Peru brought about 180 Spaniards who had been compelled to leave the country under a decree of the Government.

The Panama Herald says the United States war ship, Marengo is now at Guaymas for the purpose of enforcing the demands of the American Government.

Mrs. Virginia E. Birwely, aged 23 years, was found to be insane and she was committed to the insane asylum at Stockton. An investigation showed her insanity brought about by a severe attack of puerperal fever, but the predominating cause was a blow on the head inflicted with a ruler by a school teacher in this city some fourteen years ago.

Capt. James G. Baker, an old resident of this city, and a ship captain, well known throughout the length of the Pacific coast, died on board the steamer Oregon, May 11th last, and was buried at sea on the following day.

The Antioch Premium Petroleum Company filed their notice of intention to increase their capital stock from $12,000 to $80,000.

The Golden City brings $1,000,000 in treasury notes on account of Government.

The week closes with a good demand for money without change, and a quiet state of trade generally.

Arrived—On the 22d, bark W. A. Banks, 9 days from Seabeck; bark Scotland, 16 days from Port Orchard.

Sailed—On the 23d, ship Nicholas Biddle, for Port Discovery; ship Wm. Wilcox, for Hong Kong.

Mexican News.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—The eastern line is still out of order beyond Laramie.

The following Mexican news is received by the steamship Continental:

MAZATLAN, June 16.—The situation remains unchanged. Corona made an excursion to Rosario and returned to the Presidio, where he organized a complete cordon around Mazatlan, not permitting anybody, even foreigners to get in, but allowing free passage to all who want to go to the interior.

The French have not started from here, and only keep strict police to prevent Corona's agents from creating a disturbance.

The only men of war in port are the Victore and Rouge, and other forces are not sufficient to act on the offensive.

Provisions have been so scarce that meat sells at 40 cts per pound and of vegetables and provender we have only the small supply received from your ports.

Advices from the City of Mexico give a sad picture of the moral condition of the people. Robberies and assassinations are of daily occurrence. The stages were regularly attacked and the wealthy travelers carried off for ransom. Near Puebla the Rural Guards had a fight with six robbers, of whom two were killed and two wounded who turned out to be men of the better Mexican society and not at all driven by necessity to their nefarious profession. The two killed were rich farmers, and the two wounded were merchants of Puebla.

The 23 robbers brought in after the assault on the Belgian ambassador's coach turned out to be innocent of this crime, but were convicted of other depredations. Since then the assassin of Major Huart was caught and he gave the names of 12 of his accomplices who had all been engaged in the above attack. They were immediately arrested, and a hempen reward will be their fate.

The Continental brought news from Sonora which is interesting. After Martinez was defeated at Hermosillo, he succeeded in again collecting 1,500 men at San Marcial with whom he marched on Ures but meeting a small body of Imperialists and hearing of Pesqueira's approach turned round and occupied Hermosillo which had been left without a garrison. However, this time Martinez committed no depredations, only preparing for a defence till Pesqueira came up with his Indians, and although the Republicans counted three to one, and had the advantage of a strong position, they withdrew, Garcia Morillos taking a position on the frontier of Sinaloa, and Jesquiera and Martinez laying waste the interior. Three or four small actions took place in which the Imperialists were victorious with the exception where dragoons were defeated by Republicans between the Sienega and Hermosillo.

Senior Guillom, Imperial Consul of Mexico, has received official dispatches of June 5th, 6th and 12th from Hermosillo, Mazatlan and Tepec, respectively, which states that the Liberals in Sonora are being driven towards the American line. Orders have been issued at Tepec for the formation of an expedition of 5,000 men to operate against the remnant of Liberals in Sonora and Sinaloa.

The rates of passage to New York by the Golden City which sails for Panama next Saturday are first cabin, outside rooms $281, do inside rooms $161, second cabin, $110; steerage $60. The Golden City will connect at the Isthmus with the Arizona for New York.

The investigation of the case of J. F. Bachilder and special officer Auston, charged with conspiracy, which was to have been resumed at one o'clock this afternoon was continued until tomorrow at 12 o'clock M., at the request of the prosecution, on account of their inability to procure the attendance of important witnesses.

It is variously estimated that from 5,000 to 7,000 people visited the Monadnock yesterday.

The steamer Orizaba 3 days from Portland arrived here at 1 P. M. to-day. She brings $268,000 in treasure.

Mr. Perkins, a commission merchant, doing business at 308 Battery street, committed suicide at his residence in Chestnut street near Hyde, this morning, by shooting himself through the head with a pistol. Perkins was a native of Massachusetts and came to California in 1852. he was a very gentlemanly man of good habits and highly respected by his acquaintances. He had a store in Washington Territory, for which he purchased goods in this city, and did a general commission business. Having an office at the place above mentioned. Nothing unusual was noticed in his deportment by his business acquaintances, and on entering his office Saturday afternoon he merely stated, as was his usual custom, that he would not be in again during the day. This morning he got up at five o'clock and went out and worked in his garden until breakfast. While eating breakfast he made some remarks in a desponding tone about his business, and after concluding the meal he walked out to the hennery, where he placed a pistol over the top of his head pointing downward and discharged it, the ball passing completely through his head, killing him instantly. No cause for the act is known but it is supposed to have been owing to pecuniary embarrassment.

By the arrival of the bark Japan, we learn that the British bark Hamon, Captain Perkins from Sydney, with coal and 60 passengers for San Francisco, put into Tahiti when a few days out from Sydney. Captain Perkins was lost overboard, and the vessel arrived in charge of Mr. Coffin, 1st officer. There having been some trouble with the passengers on the vessel on her arrival at Papeite, a charge was brought against Mr Coffin, accusing him of having pushed Capt. Perkins overboard. Coffin was imprisoned, then brought before the British Consul, and after examination of several witnesses, principally seamen belonging to the vessel, he was re-arrested May 16th, there being evidence against him to sustain the charge.

The British bark Kent, reported Saturday as having been run into and sunk by the steamer Oregon, May 22d, on her passage hence for the Colorado river, was a new vessel, and was on her way from Carmen Island to Portland, with a cargo of 315 tons of salt. She was run into at 3 o'clock in the morning, four miles off Catalina Island. The captain and crew were saved. The value of the Kent and cargo is estimated at $25,000.

Patrick McDonald, a native of Ireland, 37 years of age, fell down in Washington street this morning, supposed from apoplexy and heart disease.

Markets.

The flour market is inactive at previous quotations. Wheat Sales 800 sks fair milling at $1 55, Baker's extra at $1 65, and 222 sks new at $1 60 ℔ 100 lbs. Barley—300 sks brewing at 85c ℔ 100 lbs. BY STATE TELEGRAPH.

The Official Majorities.

SALEM, June 25.—Official returns from all the counties have been received giving the following Union majorities: Mallory, Congressman, 564, Woods, Governor 327; the balance of the State ticket is elected by larger majorities than the Congressman received. The Legislature stands Senate eight and House five Union majority—giving Union party thirteen majority on joint ballot.

GOV WOODS.—Hon George L. Woods, Governor elect of Oregon, arrived in this city on Saturday, and started yesterday for McMinnville and Salem. He is looking extremely well, notwithstanding the fatigue incident to the exhausting canvass he has made.

The attempted assassination of the Czar has stirred up a considerable sensational inquiry as to whether a general conspiracy is on foot in Russia. There is no external evidence if it, yet many of the journals discuss its probability with the greatest seriousness.

ECONOMY IN SMALL THINGS.—In view of the immense amount of mutilated and redeemed paper money daily destroyed at the Treasury Department, the Secretary has determined to adopt the suggestions of the Superintendent of the Printing Division, made two years ago, recommending, instead of burning, the conversion of all such currency into pulp for the manufacture of stationery for the Department. Gen. Spinner estimates that the entire Department can by this process be supplied with envelopes, thereby saving the Department an expense of from $8,000 to 12,000 per year.

The copperheads always associate themselves with the rebels as co-sufferers by the tyranny of this abolitionized Government. It is always "the wrongs heaped upon us," "the rights withheld from us." Then how does it happen that "we put down the rebellion?"

Gen McClellan has, at last, been "reinforced." Mrs. McClellan presented him with a son, recently, at Dresden.

UNFADING LOVELINESS belongs only to the immortals, but whoever uses the fragrant Sozodont can at least defy time to injure one of the elements of beauty, a good set of teeth.

TESTED BY TIME.—FOR THROAT DISEASES, COUGHS AND COLDS, 'Brown's Bronchial Troches' have proved their efficacy by a test of many years. The good effects resulting from the use of the Troches have brought out many worthless imitations. Obtain only "Brown's Bronchial Troches."

Agents Wanted for

HISTORY OF THE GREAT REBELLION

THE CIVIL WAR IN AMERICA,

BY HON. J. T. HEADLEY,

Author of "Napoleon and his Marshals," "Washington and his Generals," "Sacred Mountains," etc.

THE BEST, CHEAPEST, MOST INTERESTING, popular and valuable Illustrated History of the Rebellion published, which is fully attested by its enormous sales. Upwards of 300,000 copies already sold. This new and attractive work will embrace a comprehensive account of the whole contest, neatly printed from beautiful clear type, on good paper, elegantly illustrated with numerous fine steel engravings, and bound complete in ONE SUPERB VOLUME of over 1200 pages. Will be furnished to subscribers during the coming autumn.

TESTIMONIALS.

Mr. Headley has given an impartial, truthful and reliable History of the War. The work is an elegant one, and fully meets our expectations in every respect.—Rochester (N. Y.) Advertiser.

He is without exception the most successful writer of Military History now living, and has treated his present subject with his rarest power.—Detroit (Mich) Tribune.

N. B.—No other History of the War yet introduced in Oregon contains the important Official Reports of Generals Grant and Sherman.

☞ First for Headley's. Get the best.

THE WEATHER AND THE ROADS.—It is a pity that important subjects in a manner as fine buildings and the streets of the city should be so badly affected by the prevailing rain storms. But we should not complain, as the rains fall alike on the just and the unjust. The San Francisco Alta says the weather there presents numerous phases, and the man who could not suit his taste with some of them must indeed be hard to please. We know before last they had samples of the distinguished characteristics of every clime under the sun—

From Greenland's icy mountains
To India's coral strand.

They are described as being hot and cold, sunshine and clouds, rain, sand-storms, fogs, dirt-storms, drizzles, hail storms, etc. Now we of Portland are not so badly off as that. We have no such dirt storms as San Francisco can boast of—nor are we troubled with earthquakes. Sahara, the great desert of North Africa, can only approach to San Francisco regarding the dust storms, while here in Web-foot we are troubled with nothing of the kind. The Dalles, Umatilla, Wallula, and Lewiston are noted for the sand which is there, but not so with Portland, nor in fact any part of the Web-foot valley. At certain seasons of the year pedestrians on the streets of San Francisco have been known to hide their heads like the camels over the route from Tunis to Timbuctoo until the dreaded sand-storms could pass in their furious simoons, but at no time have we ever seen the dust on these streets so dense that a flag could not be discovered from the topmost mast in the city. On the whole, we think our people are free from many great calamities attending other communities. The rainless years of Oregon form no topic for newspaper comments, while California is less fortunate. The vegetation of our valleys is not obstructed for want of rain, and even now, while we are having superabundant supplies, all manner of crops flourish with great exuberance, and the entire vegetable kingdom of our glorious State presents an animated appearance, which is recognized in the well filled grain fields all about us. This portion of Oregon is noted for the extent, beauty and productiveness of its valleys. For miles around, down and further back, the Willamette exhibits one broad field of perpetual green, with but little variation perceptible. Within the boundaries of this one valley is situated the most flourishing part of our population, and their success at farming, and wool-growing and stock raising, is evidence of the fact that if Oregon has any future, even should mining be a great pursuit of the State, it will be based principally upon the wealth obtained from agricultural operations. The climate in this valley has always been unexceptionable—seldom freezing in winter to the extent of a half inch thickness of ice, but the great difficulty with the farmers is the bad state of the roads, which is such at the all important season—market times—that the products of the farm cannot be shipped, and many of this class of our citizens have little of consequence to stimulate them to extra exertions, and they are often contented with raising only such amounts as may be necessary for home purposes. There would be no one in being poor if good wagon roads were provided in every quarter section throughout the whole extent of the Willamette Valley, and this is a matter entirely within the reach of the people. Fortunes lie ripe on every hand, only waiting to be plucked, and the easiest method we know of to let this fruit drop into the laps of the people without tearing down the tree of life, is to make good wagon roads. As the roads now are, two or three wet days has an effect to stop travel from every quarter. There is not a road leading out of this city—except the drive to the White House—but what is effectually blockaded by mud. The injury the city and country has sustained on this account has been greater than the cost would have been, were the roads built. When the McAdamized road was commenced, it was understood that it would be extended at an early day to Aurora, at least, from which place the various points in the Valley would be made more accessible, but we have heard very little concerning the enterprise of late. It is hoped that the subject may soon revive. Washington county is also looking to Portland as a market for her productions, but after all the taxes collected, either in money or labor, and applied to the roads in that direction, and the amount of talk and number of attempts made to organize companies for the purpose of constructing roads to Hillsboro, Forest Grove and Lafayette, the roads are yet impassable in the wet season for an empty vehicle.

DEPRESSING PRICES.—The Stockton Independent has a grain and flour report from San Francisco which says: "There is no change to note in our produce markets. The export demand for China continues to take the bulk of the wheat and flour offering; also the receipts of Oregon flour, thus far, have been taken by Chinamen, and gone direct from steamer to ship. A fortunate thing for us it did not come in competition with California flour, as our local trade is very light, and any large amount thrown on our market would depress prices." All along Oregon flour has, for fifteen months, been held at a higher figure in the Portland markets than has California flour in the San Francisco markets, and this "depressing of prices" in the latter market, from shipments from here, is one of those unaccountable circumstances not readily accounted for. The fact is, flour has been too high in the market, ever since last harvest. The price has had more to do with the "stock on hand" than the wants of the country. We have known of cases wherein parties making purchases of general merchandise in this market and wanting a few tons of flour have gone back to their camps without that article—merely on account of the price, and now they are receiving flour from California via Chico. The difficulty of getting off our surplus at this time is no small matter, and we can only blame ourselves for it.

A GENERAL DIRECTORY.—We have received from the publisher, a copy of a new volume entitled, "A General Directory and Business Guide of the principal towns in the upper country, embracing a portion of California; together with running and statistical information concerning Idaho Territory, and a map of Montana. Compiled by G. Owens." It is intended principally for use in the mining country, and for that purpose contains much that may be found useful. So far as Oregon is concerned it is mostly interesting for showing who were in business here, a long time ago. As a directory for Oregon, in the present, it is very nearly useless. We cannot speak for it in respect to other localities.

DOING THE WORK.—Frail Celestials are marshaled in regular order before the Police magistrates of San Francisco, every day. Here is a fair sample of daily occurrences in the Bay city—it looks healthy: "A dozen Chinese prostitutes, each with a bandana wrapped around her head, were in the Police docket yesterday. Some of them confessed that they were "erring sisters," and so the Judge ordered them to appear for sentence on Monday next. A few, who could employ counsel, pleaded "not guilty." These will be tried on Monday." We should like to see the good work commenced in Portland soon, as under this arrangement San Francisco is filling the hovels of our city at a fearful rate.

PLEADED GUILTY.—The case of State vs. Susan Collins, indicted for selling liquors to Indians, was called up in Circuit Court yesterday, and the defendant pleaded guilty and was fined $20 and costs. She got off very cheaply, as this is an offense of some magnitude, and one of a character extremely difficult to convict. The action in her case should be a warning to others, but we presume it will be taken advantage of by guilty persons to render them more careful in the manner of pursuing the nefarious calling.

FAIRLY SPOKEN.—After all the "blowing"—we can give it no better name—of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, the Victoria papers, and San Francisco bummers, in the interest of the route to Big Bend via Kamloops Lake and Suswap, the Colonist honestly confesses that had it not been for the steamer Forty-Nine, which supplied the miners of Big Bend with provisions, but few miners would now be found in those diggings. This must be a consoling thought for the poor chaps who struggled over the snow to get there, and it should be a warning to others.

OPERATIONS.—Among other modes offered to Portlanders to enjoy the Fourth of July, we have it from good authority that a society, composed of the leading young men of our city, will give a novel, unique and original celebration, which will undoubtedly be the most interesting feature of the day. We are not at liberty to say more of this grand affair at present, but we suppose a programme of the doings will be issued before or on the day of celebration.

CALIFORNIA SCENERY.—Mr W T Shanahan, of the firm of Shanahan & Dufrene, returned on the last steamer from California bringing with him the finest collections of engravings extant, as well as a large number of the most magnificent photograph views of California scenery. We noticed yesterday that the ladies were particularly interested in these pictures, and we predict a demand for them.

STRAWBERRIES.—Messrs. Works & Swan, corner of Morrison and Third streets, have for sale the finest strawberries we have seen in the market. They are of the Hovey Seedling variety, and are raised by Mr Samuel Dew of this city, near the foot of Mt. Anderson. Twelve of these berries weighed a half pound, and two were picked which measured five inches in circumference.

PUT HIS EYE OUT.—Our cotemporary says a person in some county of this State, recently permitted some sort of bribing or corruption to go on, but the circumstances are not very intelligibly set forth. A friend at our elbow suggests that the fellow merely "winked" at it. Put his eye out. Who is he? Where did he come from? Who does he belong to?

SELECT BALL.—Our neighbors at Oregon City are to give a select ball on Wednesday evening, July 4th, in the new court room, (Messrs. Ralston & Myers new brick building.) A private letter states that this will be a most pleasant and agreeable party. We do not doubt it—our friends up at the Lowell of the Pacific understand such matters pretty well.

M. GALLAGHER'S CASE.—The case of Michael Gallagher indicted for the killing of Geo. Badine, was taken up yesterday forenoon in the Circuit Court. The jury was empanneled and witnesses on behalf of the prosecution examined, when Court adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning.

FREIGHTS.—Freights are now carried from White Bluffs and Umatilla to Pen d'Oreille Lake, at 5 cents per pound, and from Umatilla to Owyhee crossing, on Snake river, within 35 miles of Ruby city, Owyhee, 30 miles of Boise city, and 63 miles of Idaho city at four and a half cents per pound.

SENT UP.—Charley Canavan was treated to a term of five days in the city jail yesterday, upon conviction before Judge Hoffman on a charge of riotous and disorderly conduct at the LINCOLN HOUSE on Sunday. Charley is living on "remittance."

STATIONERY FOR THE STATE.—We invite attention of dealers to the advertisement of Secretary May, in another column, in reference to proposals for stationery for the State, to be furnished as classified.

FURS.—Mr. Butler of the Pioneer Hat Manufactory, is in the market for furs. He advertises that he is prepared to pay the highest market prices.

EXCURSION.—The steamer Fannie Troup, Capt. Turnbull, is up for an excursion on the Fourth of July to Vancouver.

NO. 2'S STEAMER.—The various companies of the city last evening accepted invitations from Multnomah Engine Company No. 2 to assist in accepting and housing the new steam fire engine on the Fourth of July. All the companies of the Department will turn out in full, as companies [illegible].

FOR VICTORIA.—The time of departure of the steamer Fideliter, as there is postponed until Thursday at 8 P. M., in consequence of freight which is to arrive from up the Willamette.

WASHINGTON GUARD.—We learn that the Washington Guard Company B, Capt. Mills, propose to visit Oregon City and participate in the celebration there on the Fourth of July.

DISAPPOINTED.—Mr. Lamsdon was disappointed in his [illegible] last evening, which occasioned a postponement of the very interesting performance at Willamette Theatre until some future time.

DR. J. C. HAWTHORNE.—Dr. Hawthorne's name appears in the list of passengers leaving New York for the Pacific coast, by the Steamer Northern Light, June 11th.

FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—The steamers Oriflamme and Montana will both leave this port tomorrow at 8 A. M. for San Francisco.

FROM MONTANA.

The Montana Post of June 2d contains the following:

THE WHEAT CROP OF THE PRESENT SEASON

The supply of wheat in the Territory will be very large by next fall—larger even than at present. A careful estimate of our crops enables us to assume that at least 150,000 sacks of flour will be produced in the Territory should the season be an average one. There is upwards of 8,000 acres of wheat now growing in the Gallatin valley alone, and more than 1,000 about Mill Creek neighborhood, while the Boulder, Big Hole, Deer Lodge, Bitter Root, and numerous other valleys are equally well represented on the wheat question.

THE ELK CREEK DIGGINGS.

Reports from the Elk Creek diggings continue favorable. The gulch is about fifteen miles long, and the bed rock is at depths varying from seven to thirty feet and upwards, or rather "downwards," at Yreka, where it is so deep that the miners will have to rely exclusively on drifting. The gold is very fine in quality, and coarse in grain. Deer Creek is said to be immensely rich.

VARIOUS ITEMS.

A sad accident occurred at Helena May 28th. Mr A D Kirkpatrick, nearly 60 years of age, fell from the plate of the new stone building near the corner of Main street and Broadway, breaking two or three of his ribs.

There has been a great freshet in Jefferson Valley. Bridges were carried away and the water was said to be higher than ever known before.

Ben Holladay has obtained a contract for mail service six days in the week, from Salt Lake City via Virginia City, to Helena.

Marshal G M Pinney has safely returned to Montana, after a visit to the States of several months duration.

STATE ITEMS.

We have received a letter from Mr. J. L. Williams of Salem stating that two young men answering to the names of Wilson and Moss, who are supposed to have stolen Mr Dobbins horses from Washington county, sold a bay mare and a sorrel horse at Salem Thursday evening under circumstances that made them suspected. When the OREGONIAN containing the item about the robbery, reached Salem, the men were followed, brought back, and lodged in jail, but no one being able to give any evidence against them, they were subsequently released. The horses are now both at Salem, but the thieves have escaped.

Letter from White Bluffs.

WHITE BLUFFS, June 9th, 1866.

EDITOR OREGONIAN.

This place is still improving. The buildings now nearing completion give the place an appearance of importance. Several pack trains have left here lately for Big Bend and Pen d' Oreille Lake. The Hudson's Bay Co.'s train, 142 animals, left here last Tuesday, the 5th inst., with merchandise and flour for forts Colville and Sheppard. There are three pack trains camped here at present, and shippers to the above points will find every facility and low freights at this place.

THE WAGON ROAD

is in good condition and the many teamsters who have passed over it say that with a small outlay it can be made one of the best roads in this part of the country. Any bad place on the road is immediately put in order upon its being known. Mr Booth, accompanied by a number of workmen, left here last Monday, 4th inst., en route to Pen d' Oreille. His intention is, should there be any place needing repair, to have it done, so that the heaviest loaded wagons may pass over it. I have no hesitancy in saying that in less than one month, the Walla Walla Statesman and their "You Bet" correspondent will be fully convinced that White Bluffs is the best and shortest route.

RINGGOLD CITY.

There has been some talk lately in regard to the above town being the best route and wagon road. A company of men, amongst them Mr. G A L Allen, who has had extensive experience in building roads, left here last week to inspect and report on the proposed new route. After riding over the whole distance of the road, they find it anything but a practicable one. The money required to build the road would count thousands and take months of hard labor to make it even passable. The springs, before it connects with the White Bluff road, the Indians say, completely dry up in summer, and as for wood, there is none for miles around. The parties who gave the above report are reliable men, and have given their unprejudiced opinion. N.

New Guarantees Required

The New York News has been troubled by a vision similar to that which disturbs the peace of the Oregon Copperheads. The News is dreadfully alarmed about this matter of "equality before the law," as witness the following:

> "The transition is quite facile, from equality to superiority, when the offices are held by negroes and justice is administered by mulattoes and mokes. What guarantees have the whites that when this superiority is attained and they feel their power, they will not pass local laws discriminating between the whites and excluding them from the benefits of equality? It becomes a serious question whether, in view of this fact the South ought not to make some compromise with the Radicals and accept equality as proposed, provided guarantees are given that the negro shall not become the white man's master."

So the Democracy confess that they require guarantees to prevent the negroes from "attaining a superiority over them." They seem to be painfully aware of the extent of their danger.

Attention Portland Zouave Cadets.—Special Meeting of your Company will be held this (Tuesday) evening. WILLIAM CHURCH, Jr. Sec'y.

THE GLORIOUS SUN.—ELLSWORTH & CARDWELL, at their PHOTOGRAPHIC GALLERY 89 First street, have received quite accurate information that the glorious orb of day will be visible to the inhabitants of Portland and vicinity during the coming week. Those who have delayed having their PICTURES taken at the above celebrated GALLERY on this account will be cheered by this announcement.

All Persons should test the merits of DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. While it is highly palatable as a beverage, it is unequaled as a tonic and invigorator. In the pursuit of fortune at the mines, many persons are exposed to the attacks of complaints of the digestive organs, and of various kinds of fever. It is the very article that has so long been in demand at the mines. Its daily use will restore the tone of a deranged stomach, impart fresh vitality to the digestive functions, and cheer the spirits. Yet the Bitters is the safest of all stimulants. Let the miner who is exposed to hot and dry, wet and cold, be certain to obtain a supply of the genuine Hostetter Bitter, and he will find it a certain safeguard to health. Sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. fe20 HODGE, CALEF, & Co. 97, Front St.

S. T.—1860.—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated

PLANTATION BITTERS,

Which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities and warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and must supersede all other tonics where a healthy, gentle stimulant is required.

They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.

They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, wintergreen, sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix rum. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.

Beware of impostors. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U. S. Stamp unmutilated over the cork, with plantation scene, and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in bulk, is an impostor. Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles, &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

G. VENARD,

CHARTRES COFFEE!

Manufactory Established in June, 1851.

STEAM POWER, NOS. 625 AND 621 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

Each package bears the signature of G. VENARD.

While the Days go by

I will not say our life is all in vain
[illegible] may cheer at last the barren breath
But still I know that on this weary earth
[illegible]
And the days go by

We wait [illegible] for flickering in the night
[illegible]
[illegible] through years [illegible] some broad morn of truth
But [illegible] out and leave us with no light,
And the days go by

[illegible] Alps and [illegible], and come [illegible] thirsting [illegible] praying them to give,
[illegible] O Nature tell us why we live!
She smiles with beauty but her lips are dumb,
And the days go by

[illegible] We breathe, we love, we come
[illegible] little while of age and fall
We are Fate's children very tired and all
Are homeless strangers craving rest and peace
And the days go by

[illegible] experience
And [illegible] the sad sweet goblet of my years,
I find [illegible] with all its smiles and tears
And [illegible] this I too shall [illegible]

Mr Seward

[From the Chicago Tribune]

There has always been a mystery about the Washington correspondent of the Charleston Courier who has managed to hold the position of United States Minister to Portugal during the past five years. At the date of his appointment in 1861 he was officiating as reporter for the New York Tribune, and the Charleston paper aforesaid. During his connection with the former journal he had lost no opportunity to put in a good word for Mr Seward, who, whatever else may be said of him, always takes good care of the newspaper gentlemen who blow his trumpet. Upon his accession to office he lost no time in opening the good things of the State Department to them. He sent Harvey to Portugal, Bigelow to Paris, Thayer to Egypt, Pike to the Hague, and some smaller fry in journalism to other places, and upon the decease of Mr Dayton he appointed Mr. Bigelow Minister, although it is held in Europe to be undiplomatic to make a Minister of a Consul.

Mr Harvey had hardly reached Lisbon when it was discovered, in overhauling the telegraph dispatches at Washington that he had sent a dispatch to Charleston warning the rebels in advance of the proposed expedition to relieve Fort Sumter. His recall was demanded by the unanimous voice of the loyal press and people. Mr. Harvey replied that his dispatch was sent with the full knowledge and authority of the Secretary of State. Since he was allowed to retain his position, there can be no doubt that he told the truth. Senator Wade affirms that, upon investigation, he found the facts to be as stated by Mr Harvey. The public, nevertheless, are as far from being reconciled to the sending of the dispatch as they were when it was first dug out. If it was wrong for Mr Harvey, a mere newspaper reporter, to send the dispatch, it was still more wrong for the Secretary of State to authorize him to do so.

This ill-omened pair, Harvey and Seward, are again before the public—the former having written a letter, or dispatch, to the latter, recommending the President to eject Congress from the Capitol, and the latter having allowed it to be published. Mr. Reverdy Johnson, who is supposed to believe everything that Andrew Johnson believes in regard to reconstruction, nevertheless says that if the Secretary of State did allow the letter to be published he should be censured. Senator Fessenden, who is not noted for speaking rashly in debate, says that the letter was excessively impertinent, and that probably Mr Harvey expressed no opinion regarding Congress that was disagreeable to the Secretary of State. This remark of Mr Fessenden's appears to us to be a lucid statement of the case, more concise, indeed, than the distinguished Senator from Maine is in the habit of directing against the Executive branch of the Government, and hence more noticeable. It amounts to a statement that probably Mr. Seward would not be ill pleased to see the Congress of the United States, ejected from their seats for the purpose of getting rebels installed in their places.

Mr. Seward has been the Mephistopheles of the Government throughout the war. Before Mr. Lincoln's accession in 1861, he made a speech in New York extolling the virtues of the noble South Carolinians who were throwing up earthworks around Major Anderson, predicting that "the country would be happy" within ninety days. Next we find him authorizing Harvey to communicate military and naval plans of the Government to the rebels in Charleston. Shortly afterward he writes to all the Ministers abroad that, whatever may be the issue of the war, not a slave will be freed by it. Then he sends a special communication to Mr. Adams that the war is waged for territory exclusively, and this dispatch furnishes the basis of Earl Russel's speech, which gave such offence to this country, declaring that the war was carried on for empire on the one side and for dominion on the other. (It is a little surprising that Mr. Bancroft, in adverting to this speech of the noble Lord, should have forgotten that it was delivered shortly after Mr. Seward's dispatch reached London.) Things went on in this Mephistophelian way till Mr. Seward wrote a dispatch to Mr. Adams concerning the unpatriotic efforts of disunionists, both North and South, to prevent the re-establishment of peace. The war was then at its height. The battle of Antietam had just been fought. The President was vainly endeavoring to overcome the inertia of McClellan, and to induce him to carry the war to the Virginia side of the Potomac, and McClellan was replying to all the appeals made to him, that his horses had sore tongues and couldn't manage their forage. The disunionists of the North, who were inveighed against by Mr. Seward, were obviously those who were zealous for pushing on the war, and in this category Mr. Lincoln himself was the foremost.

When Congress assembled, and this interesting missive, with many others of the same sort, was laid before them, the Republican members of the Senate, as a part of the appointing power, held a meeting and resolved that, so far as they were concerned, they would set a mark upon Mr. Seward, whereby he should be distinguished from all his predecessors in office, as one who had become so odious to the American people that the Senate, which had once advised and consented to his appointment as Minister of Foreign Affairs, were now constrained to advise his expulsion from such office. They accordingly appointed a committee to wait upon the President and convey their resolution to him. Mr. Seward, meanwhile, resigned his office, but through some chicanery in the Cabinet, in which Mr. Chase was unpleasantly mixed, it was made to appear to Mr. Lincoln that, if the Secretary of State should go out, some others would go out also, whom he then deemed necessary to the success of the Government. So our Mephistopheles again came back to plague us, and is still revisiting the glimpses of the moon. The only thing which will identify Mr. Seward in history with the war for the Union is the attempt made to assassinate him on the night that Mr Lincoln was murdered.

OLD MORTALITY.—The London Athenæum, in a review of Wheeler's Dictionary of Noted Names of Fiction, mentions the following particulars respecting the descendants of Robert Paterson, the original of Scott's "Old Mortality," which will be new to many of our readers: "Old Paterson, whom Scott saw reviving the inscriptions on the tombs of the Covenanters, went to America, and became the grandfather of a Paterson whose widow married the Marquis Wellesley. The sister of that Mrs. Paterson married the Duke of Leeds and Lord Stafford. The direct blood of 'Old Mortality' went in another and remarkable direction. His granddaughter, Miss Paterson, was the first wife of Jerome Bonaparte. The marriage was never 'legally' annulled, and a son who sprang from it, the great grandson of 'Old Mortality,' is now on the staff of his cousin, the Emperor of the French."

THE PRESIDENT AND CONGRESS.—The New York Nation, a neutral paper, judges President Johnson with more severity than the ardent journals of the Republican party. It says:

In dealing with such a compound of fickleness and obstinacy as now occupies the White House, it was necessary to proceed tentatively; and although it has finally become clear that conciliation is wasted and that no measure short of allowing unrestricted and exclusive sway to traitors, will meet with the approval of the man who claims to embody the whole United States in himself, yet surely Congress is not to be blamed for hoping to the last against the existence of such arrogance and bad faith.

THE PRESIDENT'S INCONSISTENCY.—Mr Johnson when a member of the United States Senate, voted for the expulsion of Jesse D. Bright for disloyalty though he had never raised a hand against the Union. Now forsooth, he accuses Congress, says the Cleveland Plaindealer, of inaugurating another rebellion, because it refuses to comply with his request that those very men who have fought in the rebel army, shall be permitted to take the seats to which they were elected by men whose hands were reeking with the blood of the defenders of the Union.

A Copperhead in Maine, who had served out his term of thirty days in the Augusta jail, was asked when he came out, how he liked it. "I had a bully time," said he, "there were seventy of us in the jail and not a d—d Black Republican among them."

Senator Wilson on the President and his Followers

The following debate took place recently in the United States Senate:

Mr Doolittle—I was simply saying, Mr President, that I believe the Senator from Massachusetts is taking counsel of his fears and not of his judgment, and I believe another thing: that this unexampled proposition, never heard of before in the seventy seven years of the existence of the Government, is not such a proposition as the Senate ought to entertain.

Mr Wilson—The Senator from Wisconsin asks me if I referred to the present Executive in what I said of Executive removals and abuses. I answer frankly that I did. Sir, I wish simply to say this. During the last Summer and Autumn we were assured that the President was making an experiment in organizing the rebellious States. We were told that if it did not succeed the remedy was in the hands of Congress. We were told, also, that difference of opinion among friends in regard to those modes of reconstruction were to be freely tolerated. The President went on in the course he had marked out for himself. The rebel states were recognized and every one of those States recognized since the 4th of March, 1865, is to-day as completely in the hands of the rebels as it was the day Jeff Davis was captured. Nearly every one of those States has elected rebels to Congress; three loyal men in Virginia to the House, none from North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Louisiana, one in Mississippi, none yet elected in Texas, where the election is yet to come, Hamilton is fighting for principle and for the cause, but he is to be overborne by the influence and power of traitors. I fear he receives no aid from this Administration. This was the condition of the country when Congress met. Congress, as in duty bound, cast about to see what was to be done, to see that these States should come in here, as I have once before said, loyal and foremost, and not rebel and foremost. The advocates of bringing these States into the Government of the country, rebel and foremost, through the public press and in other ways, have been calling upon the President for the last four months to strike down the men who elected him and to reward men who would desert the principles, the ideas, the policy and the measures of those who put this Administration in power. Faithful, true, tried and honest men have been removed from office to make way for men who had no claims upon office and who have simply shouted hosannas to the President for the purpose of obtaining patronage and power. Was not a soldier removed in Philadelphia and a man who had not the public confidence of our friends there appointed in his place?

Mr. Fessenden—His name.

Mr. Wilson—Slenaker. Are there not other cases? Here is a man appointed Marshal in western Pennsylvania who was tried by court-martial, convicted, and dismissed from the service, and I am told he would have gone to prison if it had not been for the influence of friends.

Mr Cowan—Who were the "friends?"

Mr. Wilson—I know that there are men in this Capitol to-day who, for the last three or four months, have been urging and pressing the Executive to use the corrupt and corrupting influences of public patronage for the purpose of building up and constructing an independent party—a party that has died before it was born, and I know that there are men in this city—I mean the Blairs—who have been on voyages of discovery, hunting up and picking out a public man here and there, and offering them the kingdoms of this world if they would betray us. I know that these things are so, and I know that a Committee of this new party was got up, five of the members of which, I believe, have already declined because they do not belong to the concern and were captured without their consent. Its object was to organize a party to be built up by public patronage. Sir, you remember Scovel, of New Jersey, some of us remember him, how he came down here and blustered about, and declared that he was going to elect a Senator from New Jersey against the President's policy. Now, what would you think of a letter written by a public officer to another public officer in New Jersey, saying "The Secretary of the Treasury directs me, by the order of the President, to say to you that you must remove a certain man in your employment, and in filling his place consult Scovel." It is well known and understood that Scovel struts over New Jersey claiming to control the public patronage in that State, and we have nominations before the Senate now of his dictation. When a public officer dies or resigns, or his term of office expires, and the President of the United States is casting about among the men who elected him selects to fill that place a man he thinks agrees more nearly with him than with Congress I make no complaint. I object to his raising this issue among ourselves, and I object to our raising it, and I do not raise it upon him. But when a competent, faithful and honest public officer is discharged for no other reason than that he believes in the principles, the policy, the aims and the purposes of the party of Union and liberty, the party that saved this country and made it a free country, when such a man is struck down to reward another man for mere partisan purposes, or to get up a little rebellion against this great organization that to-day holds twenty-three of the twenty-five loyal States, I for one object to it. I object to it as an attempt to use the vast patronage and power of the Government of the United States for the purpose of corrupting a pure and true people, a people that have given nearly 3,000,000 soldiers and $3,000,000,000 to their country to carry it through the late rebellion. I will say to-day what I believe to be true, and in saying it I make no assault upon the President of the United States. I say that I believe the policy the President has felt it his duty to pursue, which he has pursued, and which he seems to insist on pursuing, without consulting the views of Congress, this uncertainty, this doubt, this veto of the Civil Rights bill, has made more sorrowful men and women in this country than were ever made by any other man that has trod this continent. Sir, the men that elected this Administration were actuated by the loftiest motives that ever influenced any people. They gave their children, they voted their money, they gave their prayers in November, 1864, for the re-election of Lincoln and the putting down of the rebellion, and the unity of the country and the liberty of every man within the bounds of the republic. They were God-fearing men, and women, too, who had given the years of their lives to aspiration, to thought, to prayer, to action for the freedom of all, and for the elevation of the humblest men within the bounds of the country. When they have seen this hesitation, when they have witnessed what we have witnessed during the last twelve months, when they have realized the great loss of the opportunity, in the early Summer, last year, to give impartial suffrage and amnesty to the freedmen, and to the men who have been fighting against their country, when they have witnessed all these things their hearts have been wrung with a great sorrow not surpassed by the sorrow of the four bloody years of war in which three hundred thousand of their sons and brothers gave their lives to their country. The President of the United States—I do not mean to say that he purposed or intended it, for I do not believe he could be so ungrateful to the noble men that elected him—I believe, upon my conscience has made more anxious nights, more troubled days, more bitter thoughts, more agony and sorrow of honest, conscientious, God-fearing men and women of our country than ever lived. Upon my conscience I say that I believe Johnson has made more thoughtful men and women bow their heads in anxiety and sorrow during the past year than did the rebel chiefs during the four years of fire and blood.

NO MORE OF THAT.—"Hangman Foote" suggests the following ticket for 1868: For President, Ulysses S. Grant. For Vice President, Robert E. Lee. Not any of Lee! Hereafter there will be more care taken, in the nomination of Vice President, for the Unionists will take into consideration the fact, that the bullet of Booth removed Abraham Lincoln, and put in his place Andrew Johnson. Hereafter we shall have to secure the life of our nominee for the Presidency, by placing upon the ticket for Vice President a better man, instead of, as heretofore heading it with a Lincoln, and ending it with a Johnson. That ticket tapered too much.—Toledo Blade.

It is well known that the last census enumerates some half dozen slaves in the State of New Jersey. The Trenton American of a recent date says the township of Marlborough, Monmouth county, has sued the executor of an estate for money expended for the support of a slave who had belonged to said estate, and the executor contended that since the ratification of the Constitutional Amendment abolishing slavery, the estate is not legally bound to support the former slave, and that the township is as much bound to support the black pauper, now that he is free, as if he were a white man.

The Day Book asserts that if the South will stand by the Copperheads they can win the fight against the loyal men of the country. Did the South ever say if the Copperheads would stand by them they would make treason successful? They have stood by each other for the past four or five years; what can they do more than they have done?

The Post office Department has issued orders to discontinue the delivery of the mails at an early day at all offices in South Carolina, and perhaps in other States where there are no regularly appointed and commissioned postmasters.

Feeling at the South

[Richmond (Va.) Correspondence Sacramento Union]

I have not met one man who carried the mark of honesty and intelligence in his face but told me he most heartily sympathized with the South during the war. In fact, it is nonsense to think there is any considerable number of people in the South now, or during the war who were or are true to the Union, or who even respect the Yankee Government, as they call it. When speaking of their country they invariably refer to the Confederacy. They treat an individual well enough, but the great Yankee nation they despise. I did not see a man who had intelligence enough to be a "good hater" unless it was some policy man who stood mute, but hated the Union as heartily as it was possible for a human being to. For instance a Georgian of high character, to whom I had letters from a friend in Washington, said to me: "I will not try to deceive you, sir, by saying that I love the American Union for I do not," and he added, further: "Do not deceive yourself by thinking that the people of the South now do, or that people of the present generation ever will love the Union. Why," said he, "if the South to-day could vote on the question of union with the North or disunion, they would go overwhelmingly for disunion, if it did not entail upon them another war, but we have had war enough. Our country is depopulated and our property is gone."

The idea that the South is turned and all this sort of stuff, is not true. Even in their poverty—a poverty the most abject which is possible for an American to imagine, they yet talk fight—of course I mean some of them. I often heard the remark, "This would be the last Congress"—"There would be another war" and pointing to some miserable looking darkey, they would say, "There is a Yankee Congressman." These expressions were common among the young, and not unusual even with men well advanced in years. In fact, you get out of sight of brass buttons anywhere in the South and you hear nothing else talked. Of the hundred I have heard refer to the Government and Yankees, I have yet to hear one man south of Richmond speak well of the Government or the people. So far as the feeling of the people goes, it would have been just as sensible to have had the whole South represented in Congress during the war as now. Because, if their representatives fairly represent them, they will do no single act that will redound to the good of the country, if they know it. Why, it seems like going into a foreign country. When I came in sight of even Richmond, on my return, I involuntarily drew a long breath thankful that I had gotten back to my own land. And what adds to this bitterness existing in the South, they are perfectly sincere and honest in their convictions. It is a prejudice which has become a part of their being—it now seems as though it was born in them. I would consider it safe to say, that were we engaged in a foreign war with a first class power and with a chance of our being worsted, at least three-fourths of the entire South who were able to fight would take arms against us and would go in with the madness and ferocity of fanatics. The President or Seward may tell the people and the country that the South is repentant and that people are loyal, but I regret to say that such is far from being the case, and it does no require more than a visit to the South to find this out.

American Double Turbine Water Wheel

IS NOW MANUFACTURED BY THE OREGON IRON Works, in the city of Portland, and orders for the same can be filled immediately. We have a small supply of the different sizes, from 10 inches to 48 inches in diameter. That we may know the proper sized wheel you require, measure your water in the following way: Take the width of the stream, the average depth, and the distance it flows in a minute.

All the wheels now in use give universal satisfaction. Both the construction of the wheel and its performance, commend it to the better judgment of all minds capable of appreciating the highest development of mechanical construction. Therefore it has conquered the most violent opposition.

This wheel is especially adapted to mining purposes. It is light, and can be easily packed into the mountains. Wheels weighing from 100 to 300 pounds will yield from 10 to 40 horse power, under a head of 25 or 30 feet. They are the cheapest wheel to set up known, as they are so arranged as to produce the greatest power possible from the water used.

The prices of these wheels have now been reduced to the ability of all. Come and see them or send for a circular to

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.

EUGENE CLICQUOT CHAMPAGNE.

PINTS AND QUARTS CONSTANTLY ON HAND, and offered for sale by

J. BEHRENS, Agent.
429 Battery St., San Francisco.

The public is warned against an imitation of this favorite Champagne, bearing a label in counterfeit of the one used by the New York Agency.

The public is also warned against spurious Wine, bearing a label to imitate the one known here as Eugene Clicquot's put up in second-hand Clicquot baskets, or otherwise.

A new label will shortly be issued, only distinguishable from the one hitherto used by a small coat of arms of very elaborate and inimitable workmanship. On application to the Agent, Wine with the new label can be forthwith supplied. jo6d1m4p

DR. CHAS. H. TOZER'S

PRIVATE MEDICAL INSTITUTE,

N. E. Cor. Jackson and Kearney Sts.,

SAN FRANCISCO.

THE GREAT ERADICATOR OF SPECIAL COMPLAINTS, FORMERLY OF LOCKE HOSPITAL, LONDON, EIGHT YEARS IN SACRAMENTO AND THE LAST THREE YEARS IN SAN FRANCISCO.

DR. TOZER'S

Experience is of forty years standing, and during the time has met with unparalleled success in the treatment of all those diseases generally known as Venereal or Chronic.

It is impossible here to mention all the diseases with which he is familiar; some, perhaps, will not be out of place. The most formidable, the most destructive to mankind is Self Abuse. The brain being the seat of the disease the whole system suffers in consequence. I will here enumerate some of the symptoms, so that the afflicted may be able to form an opinion in regard to their complaints, and seek advice in time, thereby saving themselves a world of suffering: Nervous Debility, Loss of Memory, Pain in the Limbs and Back, Palpitation of the Heart, Trembling of the Limbs, Headache, and Aversion to Genial Society, especially that of females. There are a great many more, but these are sufficient, and should you be suffering from any of them, call on DR. TOZER, and he will cure you in a short time without any interruption in your business—or state your case by letter, and there will be no occasion for your calling at the office.

Stricture of the Urethra

Is another formidable enemy to health. Send for one of my circulars on that disease, and inform yourself of its terrible results. The worst cases [illegible]

Venereal Diseases

In all their various forms, either Primary, Secondary, or Hereditary, completely eradicated from the system, the constitution being restored to perfect health, so there will be no danger of handing down to your children that terrible disease known as Scrofula.

Syphilitic Disease

As it presents itself on this coast, is of a more formidable character than that seen in the Atlantic States or Europe, arising from the fact of its being a compound of Spanish, Chinese and Sandwich Island disease. Those of you who have visited the two latter countries [illegible] the dreadful effects of it on both the [illegible] population. It requires altogether [illegible] treatment.

The Old Formulas

Of Ricord, Actel and Bostwick are of little benefit, except to dry up the disease on the surface, leaving the poison in the blood, which, sooner or later, will show itself as a secondary disease in an aggravated form. These facts I have learned by experience, and think that I can say without boasting that I have seen more [illegible] these diseases than any other physician [illegible] dating as it does from 1840. I'd counsel you, therefore, to think well, before you employ a physician.

Who is the proper one to consult—an old [illegible] one or one who has recently settled [illegible]

My Plan is Purely Vegetable,

Destroying the disease and purifying the blood, so that there is no danger of secondary [illegible]

Rheumatism, Neuralgia,

And diseases arising from the use of Mercury, such as pains in the shin bones, swelling of the [illegible] of the body, running sores, etc., etc., and [illegible] blood, cured in a short time by the use of my [illegible] ABLE MIXTURES, known only to myself.

Diseases Peculiar to Females,

Such as Retention, Painful Menstruation, etc., etc., has been my study for a great number of years, and I can safely promise a perfect cure in a short time.

Be not deterred from calling on Dr. TOZER [illegible] cacy or a fear of exposure. As the Doctor [illegible] you can trust, and all cases are treated with [illegible] secrecy.

been since Dec 17, 1862, for the rent of my Handsome Brick
Store, corner of Morrison compelled to announce for the benefit of the public, that

JACOB MAYER

Leased the building of me Feb 17, 1862, for a term of years, at which time there was no such currency in vogue and it was understood the terms were Cash. Since the date above stated, I have received the depreciated currency regularly for the rent of the

CITY OF PARIS STORE!

making less than two-fifths of the real amount said Mayer was to pay. He had secured the building at very advantageous rates, and even were he now to comply with his contract, and pay in Coin, would be getting the best bargain in the city. I make this statement to show the public what kind of a man he must be to take such undue advantage of the times to convert a few dollars to himself by LEGAL SWINDLING. The public can readily see how much it costs to have such tenants in such costly buildings as the one referred to above.
